

Unit 3 – Section 6: Managing Change & Contingency Planning

Mixed Topic Practice Questions

4-Mark Questions

1. Define business change.
2. Explain one internal cause of change in a business such as Tesco.
3. Explain one external cause of change such as changes in technology.
4. Define contingency planning.
5. Explain one benefit of scenario planning for a multinational firm.
6. Explain one reason employees may resist organisational change.
7. Define the term organisational culture.

8-Mark Assess Questions

8. Assess the impact of technological change on a firm's competitiveness.
9. Assess whether employee resistance always has a negative impact on business performance.
10. Assess the usefulness of contingency planning for businesses operating in uncertain markets.
11. Assess the role of leadership in successfully implementing organisational change.
12. Assess whether external factors are more significant than internal factors in driving change.

12-Mark Discuss Questions

13. Discuss whether managing change effectively is the most important factor in achieving business success.
14. Discuss whether Kotter and Schlesinger's model remains relevant in modern businesses.
15. Discuss whether planning for risk can ever eliminate uncertainty.
16. Discuss whether resistance to change can benefit businesses in the long term.
17. Discuss the extent to which scenario planning improves decision-making in large organisations.

20-Mark Evaluate Questions

18. Evaluate whether resistance to change can ever be beneficial for a business.
19. Evaluate the extent to which contingency planning ensures business survival during crises.
20. Evaluate whether adapting to change is more important than strategic planning for long-term success.
21. Evaluate whether leadership is the most critical factor in managing organisational change.
22. Evaluate whether the costs of contingency planning outweigh the benefits for global firms.

Student Reflection & Self-Review

- Identify which models or theories (e.g., Kotter & Schlesinger) apply to each question.
- Check that each answer includes application to a real business context.
- Include evaluation language ('depends on', 'short-term vs long-term', 'stakeholder impact').
- Add a justified conclusion for all 12- and 20-mark responses.